Real Voices of Recovery

Big news! Next month, we will be launching our brand new podcast, Real Voices of Recovery. Hosted by Justin Wright, Program Director of TTI Bethlehem Hope Center, the show will feature real people sharing their personal experiences of addiction and recovery. You'll hear the good and the bad, but most importantly, you'll hear that recovery is possible and that you can achieve it. If you're interested in sharing your story on our podcast, submit it below!
