

All hands on deck!

Treatment Trends and its staff have been incredibly busy getting Allentown Residential and Slatington Outpatient ready for clients. Whether it is building furniture, putting together binders for training, onboarding new staff, etc., we are excited to be getting closer and closer to seeing these projects come to their natural end. We are currently looking for donations of (appropriate) books and games to fill the shelves at Allentown Residential. During Recovery Month, several projects were created with the purpose of fostering a warm and welcome environment for those who choose to begin their recovery journey with TTI.

Slatington Outpatient Opens Its Doors

As of Wednesday, September 17 2025, Slatington Outpatient began accepting clients. Ever since, we have had numerous individuals stopping by, asking questions, and participating in the treatment services offered there. Intensive Outpatient, Outpatient, Early Intervention, Case Management, Certified Recovery Specialists and Assessment services, all on Main Street in Slatington. Come visit us and Save the Date as noted below for our upcoming Grand Opening, with more details to come.

Recovery Tip: Let's get crafty

Across our system, we took a creative approach to recovery month, keeping in mind the effectiveness of crafting as a coping skill. We generated unique ways to bring comfort to those entering Allentown Residential for the first time. Individuals in attendance at the Palmer Recovery Center Cook Out were provided the opportunity to decorate and write messages in blank journals. These journals will be gifted to each new client at Allentown Residential upon its opening. A reminder that crafting helps with emotional expression and processing, stress reduction, increasing self-esteem and confidence, as well as problem solving skills.

MY JOURNEY. MY VICTORY.

Within TTI, we celebrated National Recovery month amongst our peers and our community, honoring the individual journeys and victories of those in all stages of their recovery journey. See some of the highlights, filled with good food, good company, and even better messages of hope.

Staff Highlight:

Dave

Maintenance Supervisor Administration

Dave has worked within Treatment Trends for over 14 years, problem solving for the organization with an infectious energy, and occasional snack offering. Previously self-employed, Dave manages to balance the needs of several locations, fielding formal maintenance requests, verbal requests of staff and clients, as well as text and phone calls, which not everyone is built to manage. Dave is inspired by those around him. He appreciates the relationships he has with his team. Over the years, many have developed into valued friendships.

If you see him around, know he loves Coca-Cola!
